

How do I whitelist for Windows Live (Hotmail, MSN, Symp...

Author:
Resale Rights

Created On: 17 Oct 2009 10:17 AM

If you get your e-mail through a Microsoft provider-including Hotmail, MSN, or Sympatico-Windows Live is the way you do it. (If youâ€™re still using one of these without Windows Live, keep reading.) To reliably have Windows Live deliver our emails to your inbox, youâ€™ll need to add our From address to either your Address Book or your list of Safe Senders. (In the old versions, itâ€™s called your Safe List.) The Address Book method works for all versions, so letâ€™s start with that one.

- » Open your most recent e-mail from us.
- » Windows Live: Click the Add Contact link just below the From address.
- » Old versions: Click the Save Address button on the right, at the top of the e-mail.
- » If necessary, click OK.

You can also add our From address to your Windows Live list of Safe Senders like this:

- » First, get the From address from your most recent email from us.
- » Click Options (over on the right) to open the mini-menu.
- » Select More Options at the bottom of the list.
- » Choose Safe and Blocked Senders.
- » Click Safe Senders.
- » In the space provided, type or paste the From address from your most recent email from us.
- » Click the Add to list >> button.

Thanks for whitelisting Resale Enterprises.